THE WINSLOW FAMILY HISTORY

Our earliest ancestor we have been able to find was Timothy Winslow, living in Perquimans County, North Carolina, where Thomas Winslow, his son, was born in 1680, on a plantation. On a neighboring plantation was living Timothy Clare, whose daughter Elizabeth was born in 1686. Thomas Winslow and Elizabeth Clare were married, with the Friends' custom, by Little River Monthly Meeting, in 1704. Little River Meeting was established soon after George Fox and William Edmondson made their visit to this community in 1677. It was the first Meeting to be set up in what later became North Carolina Yearly Meeting, and, as they never built a meeting house, they met for worship in the homes of the members, most often in the home of James White.

The most of the early records for this history we gathered from the Records of the Friends Meetings, which have been gathered and published in William Hinshaw's Encyclopedia of Quaker Genealogy. The original Records are in the archives of Guilford College.

To the marriage of Thomas Winslow and Elizabeth Clare Winslow were born nine children. Our line comes from their son John, born in 1717, married Mary Pearson in 1740. They had seven children. Their eldest, Josiah, born in 1741, married Elizabeth Lamb, daughter of William Lamb. To this home were born seven children, three of whom migrated to Indiana in 1812.

Josiah lived in Perquimans County and died perhaps between 1784 and 1787, leaving Elizabeth with six minor children (the first died in infancy.) Elizabeth married Thomas Nicholson in 1788. He had a large family of children by his former wife, and soon the minor children of Josiah found homes with Josiah's relatives in Randolph County, where they had moved. This was about 150 miles west of their old home, and the children took their membership to Back Creek Meeting, where Herbert Hoover's ancestors were members. James Winslow, son of Josiah and Elizabeth, married Mary Armour, daughter of William Armour, in 1800.

About this time the Friends began to move over into West Virginia,

Ohio, and Indiana. James Winslow made a trip over this route and visited White Water (Wayne County, Ind.), and Blue River (Washington County, Ind.), in early 1808. This must have been very interesting, for the same Fall James' brother, John Woolman Winslow, made the same trip, mostly on horseback. After their return, we find James still farming, and in 1810 John Woolman was operating his general store in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Their possessions were disposed of and they started on their migration to southern Indiana in the Summer of 1812. The trip took about three months, and in early Fall they came by way of Cumberland Gap, through Lexington, Ky., and on to the Ferry on the Ohio at Charlestown Landing, about 15 miles above Louisville. From Charlestown they followed the road northwest to a location about three miles east of where Salem now stands, where they pulled their wagons into the clearing on a bluff above a spring, where Samuel Lindley lived. Here the families lived in their wagons, and in a pole grain-crib, while James and John Woolman Winslow took their guns and axes and located their farms. They settled near the head of Delaney's Creek, where the cross-roads now is, and began their homes of logs, into which they moved before Christmas, 1812.

John Woolman Winslow married Phoebe Lacy, daughter of Peter and Susanah Lacy, in 1811.

James, John W., and their maiden sister Sarah made their homes here the rest of their lives. There were no churches in the big woods, but they brought their memberships to the Lick Green Meeting, which was organized about the time they settled. It is located about three miles southeast of where Paoli now stands, on the south side of Route 150. In 1815 the Blue River Monthly Meeting, the first church in Washington County, was set up, and they became active members and so-called Charter Members of it.

The loneliness of the big woods, hundreds of miles from their old friends and relatives, was one of the real hardships of the new country. It is said that Mary (Armour) Winslow would get out of the wagon on a trip across and sit by the trail until Uncle James would go back and get her and bring her back to the wagons. She was usually crying during the trip. Among the old papers is a letter from great-grandmother Susanah Lacy to grandmother Phebe Winslow telling of her loneliness for her daughter. They (Grandfather and Grandmother with their baby Josiah) took a trip the next Fall, 1819, Grandmother visiting her mother while Grandfather went on to attend their Ohio Yearly Meeting, at Mt. Pleasant, O., about 30 miles west of Wheeling. On their return trip home they had reached the country east of where Columbus, Ind., now stands, when it became dark. They had seen no houses for hours and they made their bed beside a log and tied their horses to saplings. Late at night they were awakened by the restlessness of the horses. Listening, they heard the cry of a panther coming closer down the trail they had come. Unhitching their horses, they rode swiftly down the trail in the dark toward home, which they reached about an hour by the sun the next evening.

This work of love is dedicated to these rugged pioneers, who were always ready to meet any emergency that arose in their homes, and who helped their neighbors when in need in their isolated neighborhood; and who did their duty to God and neighbors as they saw it, to the best of their ability. They passed on the torch they had carried, that we might enjoy the benefits to make us better men and women for our times.

Much of the later data for this work was handed me, and there are many names and dates concerning people whom I never saw or heard of before. In such a case there are no doubts that mistakes crept in, and there are many omissions; but I have tried to write only the facts, and hope that the readers will correct their copies, and give me the corrections, so my personal copy may be corrected accordingly.

I want to acknowledge the help of the many who have been generous in helping and giving encouragement; especially to my sister, Aletha Winslow Stalker; to my brother, Brady V. Winslow; to Uncle John Winslow; to Letha Winslow Rockwell, who kindly collected and sent in the records of much of Uncle Samuel Winslow Family, who lived in and near Belle Plaine, Iowa; and to the many others who kindly lent aid. Some of the records could not be located and are, therefore, almost blank. Perhaps someone else will be inspired to take up the thread of records and fill in the gaps where this record is incomplete.

The above chart briefly outlines five generations of the Winslow Family. Beginning with Timothy Winslow, it carries through his son, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. It will be noted that none of the family lines is traced down through the following pages of this book, except those of Timothy's great-great-grandsons, JAMES and JOHN WOOLMAN WINSLOW. The lists of descendants of these latter two will be found beginning on pages 15 and 29, respectively.

This condensed Outline-Index includes only JAMES WINSLOW and JOHN WOOLMAN WINSLOW (sons of Josiah and Elizabeth Lamb Winslow) and their descendants, through four generations; that is, their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. The accompanying text carries many of the families several generations farther, but the later generations are excluded from this Outline-Index for want of space. It is hoped that this abbreviated Index will be helpful in "locating" the present-day families.

SETH WINSLOW

A SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Seth Winslow, the seventh of eleven children of John Woolman and Phebe Lacy Winslow, was born May 19, 1825, in a log cabin on the homestead entered by his father in the fall of 1812. The cabin was built at once and the family moved into it, probably in December of the same year. At that time there were few settlers in the County. The home was located about one-fourth mile south of Delaney's Cross Roads, about seven miles northeast of Salem, Indiana, which was not laid out until a few years later.

His education was limited to a few short terms in the private schools, the only schools of that day, but his opportunity was used well. His early life in the big woods was probably similar to that of other boys of the time. He early became skilled in the use of the axe, broadaxe, and other tools, and in rolling logs to clear the woods for cultivation. This life developed individual resourcefulness, always useful in any occupation.

He was about five feet eight inches tall, weighed about 165 pounds, and was healthy and strong. He could hold his own in wrestling, jumping, swimming, and was an excellent shot with the rifle.

He spent one winter in early manhood cutting wood for the wood-burning steamboats of the lower Mississippi River. He and his brother, Josiah, worked for some time in the tanyard of Jacob Rahill, where they learned the tanners' trade. Later he and Josiah owned and operated a tanyard east of Delaney's Cross Roads.

He was married to Jane Williams, the daughter of Thomas and Phebe Jones Williams, July 1, 1854. About this time he bought a 200-acre farm near the center of Gibson Township, where their four children were born. The first died in infancy; then Phebe, Sarah, and Margaret were born. Jane died in the spring of 1863, leaving him with three little girls; the oldest one was six. After over two years trying to care for the home and farm, he married again.

His second wife was Asenath Morris, daughter of Pritchard and Jennette White Morris. They were married Dec. 26, 1865. For nearly three years they remained in the Gibson Township home; but in 1868 they bought the quarter section in the northwest corner of Franklin Township, and moved to it. To the second marriage were born seven children, six boys and one girl. These were Pritchard, Aletha, Albert, Anderson, Fred, Brady, and Porter. Pritchard was born before they moved to Franklin Township. Anderson died at the age of nine months. In addition to their own children, they took John and Frank Winslow, orphans of Barnabas, and later two boys, and at another time a girl, into their home.

Mr. Winslow was a great reader, always keeping up with progress by reading newspapers and books, of which he accumulated a small library of the best. In farming he practiced the rotation of crops long before this was practiced generally by the best farmers. He used practical methods to prevent soil erosion. He was interested in horticulture and planted three large orchards at different times, besides other smaller ones for home use. The apples and peaches from these orchards were well known for their quality. His knowledge of fruit made his advice sought after by those interested in raising fruit. He was also interested in general farming and stock-raising, and was always looking for better breeds of stock and varieties of grain and grass for the farm. He was a good judge of stock, and was among the first in the community to secure better breeders. He was always ready to secure the best of labor-saving machinery for the farm. He secured rural delivery from the local carrier long before the government began this service. One of the first telephones in the County was installed in his home. He was among the first to use corn shredders and silos to use all the corn crop. He saved and used carefully all the manures produced, and was among the first to use commercial fertilizers. He conducted experiments with these, to help him select the kinds of fertilizers best suited to his land, many years before the U.S.Experiment Stations were able to give this advice.

He was industrious and frugal, and was able to provide a good living for his large family, besides laying something away for the rainy day. He loved young people and always had his boys for companions in the fields. Besides their mutual pleasure, it was very useful training for them. As a neighbor, he was always ready to co-operate and help when needed. He served very acceptably when there was sickness among the neighbors. He was generous to those in need, but was seldom imposed on by those able to help themselves. He was interested in the neighborhood and the community in general, and was active to see that the best talent available was selected to serve the Township, County, State, and Nation. He was a Whig, and later a Republican after that party was organized. He loved his country and helped to uncover and defeat a subversive organization during the Civil War. He was a good Bible student and was a birthright member of the Society of Friends, and was a practical Christian in his living.

Upon reaching the age of 70 he decided to shift the responsibility of running the farm, but wished to stay with the work he enjoyed so much. He made an arrangement with his son, Albert, to take it over, and he would stay with the farm and home. He enjoyed nearly ten years of this life. He did not make a will, but during the last few days, when it came up in regular conversation, he suggested that all the children were of age and fair-minded, and that they could get together and settle up matters if they wished. This was done.

He died Sept. 6, 1904, from heart trouble complications, and was buried in the Old Blue River Cemetery, where his parents and most of his brothers and sisters are buried. He had been active in the Old Settlers organization of the County. His burial was on the day set for their Annual Meeting at the County Fair Grounds. They adjourned the meeting in the afternoon and attended the funeral in a body. Col. S. D. Sayles delivered the biographical address at the next Annual Meeting.

The Story Of THE MORRIS FAMILY

The history of most families, when traced back, becomes lost in the misty uncertainty of poor or no records. Especially is this true in England in the unsettled period before 1660, due to destruction of church and public records of the period. The accurate records of this family begin with the birth of John Morris, in 1680; thenceforward, to the migration to Indiana, they are from the Quaker Meetings Records, which, for this family, are fortunately complete.

The Morris family is of Welsh origin and comes from Elystan Godydd, a powerful Brittish Chieftain who founded the Fourth Royal Tribe of Wales, and who was born in 933 A.D. The early name -- Mawr Rwyce -- meant "strong in battle."

John Morris, aged 24, arrived from England in Jamestown Colony on the Bona Mona in November, 1619. Later, due to religious persecution by the Church of England, probably between 1663 and 1665, the family moved to the sparsely settled community west of the Albemarle, near the North Carolina-Virginia state line. In this virgin wilderness other families settled and owned large plantations. Among these were the Symons, Whites, Toms, Pritchards, and others.

George Fox and William Edmonson, from England, made journeys to this community in 1671 and later in 1677. Probably these families were converted to Quakerism at that time, for we find them leaders in the first Friends Meeting, the Little River Monthly Meeting, in North Carolina, when they held their meetings in the homes; especially the homes of Henry White and Francis Toms, for 25 years before they built the first Meeting House in 1703.

Thomas Symons married Rebecca White. John Morris married their daughter in 1703. These families, besides owning large farms, took part in public government as well as in the Meeting, according to tax records, wills, and other preserved public records.

The Jehoshaphat Morris family came to Indiana in a wagon train with others from Symons Creek Monthly Meeting (Pasquatank County) during the early summer of 1815, carrying their certificates from that Meeting to Lick Creek MM in Washington County, Ind., and were among the founders of Blue River Monthly Meeting on July 1, 1815. Other families who came with them were the Truebloods, Whites, Nixons, Symons, Coxes, Pritchards, Cosands, and perhaps others. They followed a trail near the North Carolina-Virginia state line, west to Cumberland Gap, at the corner of Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky. Here they found a 1500-foot mountain to climb to get to the top of the pass. No doubt here they stopped while two or more teams of horses or oxen were hitched on the lead of each wagon to pull it up the mountain. Then the wagon was guided down the west side with its own team, the wagon being held by brakes. When all were over, they followed the trail northwest down a valley between high mountains, to Corbin, and on to Lexington. Here a trail turned north toward Cincinnati and Richmond, Ind., but they followed the newer trail northwest to the Ohio River at Charlestown Landing, about 15 miles up the River from Louisville. They, like others, crossed there rather than risk the ferry crossing nearer the Falls of the Ohio. From Charlestown they followed an old Indian trail through Charlestown, northwest about 25 or 30 miles to Blue River, their future home. The trip took perhaps eight to ten weeks, for the most part through an unbroken wilderness, camping each night in the open.

Here, near Blue River, each family selected a place for a home, usually located near a spring of flowing water. Jehoshaphat selected a farm with two springs, one a source of Blue River, about seven miles northeast of where Salem now stands. In 1818 his older brother, Aaron, with his family of seven sons, came over and settled half a mile north of Jehoshaphat. Their claims were composed of several hundred acres of level ground on the watershed, known for generations as "The Flat Woods" and the "Morris Neighborhood." When Pritchard, Jehoshaphat's son, was married, he built and lived in a home at the spring a fourth of a mile east of his father's home, where he lived and died, in 1887. The farm has been in continuous possession of the descendants, and is now owned by the fifth generation from Jehoshaphat.

Harvey Morris, in his Giants of Washington County, published by The Indiana Historical Society, tells of Pritchard Morris, Aaron and Jehoshaphat's brother, who, while helping with a house-raising, during a contest swung himself between rafters and walked with his hands up over the top and down to the other wall; and told them that when they had done this he would show them how to do a harder stunt. None could perform it. We have no other record of Pritchard's having come over, or where he went from Blue River.

It was of such rugged men and women that the Middle West was settled, and that built the moral sinews of this country as strong as they were physically. Our country has its foundation on such men who had their trust in God and who were afraid of nothing else. Their wise descendants choose and live up to the same ideals.

This condensed Outline-Index of the Morris Family extends through only six generations, beginning with JOHN MORRIS. The accompanying text continues through several additional generations. These later generations are omitted from this Index in order to save space. It is hoped that this abbreviated Index will be helpful in "locating" present-day families.

From an old scrap book owned by Mary Catherine (Calvert) Parrish, we find the following clipping, being a part of the report of a Morris Reunion held (no date given) at the old Homestead of Jehoshaphat Morris (in the NW¼, Sec.21, T.3,N; R.5 E.) which was then the home of William Morris:

"Among those present were Wm. T. Morris, of Texas, John W. Morris and Mrs. Lorena Carr of Nebraska, all children of Micah Morris; Silas Morris, of Missouri, who is the son of Benjamin Morris, dec., and James Huston of Nebraska, a soldier who had been attending the Louisville Encampment (of the G.A.R.)

"From Micah Morris, with whom the idea of a Reunion originated, we learn the following facts:

"In the year of 1815 Jehoshaphat Morris immigrated to this County from North Carolina (Pasquatank County) with his wife's people. In the year of 1818 Aaron Morris, his older brothe , came with his family and settled an adjoining section of land (SW¼ Sec.30.) Aaron Morris was married to Sarah Draper in North Carolina and to this union there were born 13 children, two girls and eleven boys.

"The girls died in infancy. Four of the boys died young. The remaining seven were Aaron, Thomas, Joseph, Benjamin, Alfred, Peter, and Micah. Of these, Peter and Micah only are living, and both were present at the Reunion. All of these brothers married and reared families except Thomas, and from them there were 37 grandchildren and an unknown number of great-grandchildren.

"Jehoshaphat was married in North Carolina. His first wife was Sarah White and by that union there were two sons, Thomas and Pritchard. His second wife was Peggy (Trueblood) Morris, by whom he had six children, as follows: four girls and two boys. Mary whose married name was Hoggatt; Nathan (who married Mary McCoy); Elizabeth (unmarried); Margaret (who married Jacob Rahill); Semira (married?); and William (who married Eliza Tatlock). Nathan and William are the only survivors of this set of children and both were at the Reunion. (William residing on the old Homestead and Nathan on the adjoining farm.)

"His third wife was Susanah Nixon, was Foster Nixon's widow. Her maiden name was Jordon. By this union there was one son, Jordon, who resides in Missouri, and was not at the Reunion. All of these children of Jehoshaphat, except Elizabeth and Jordon, were married and had children, making the number of grandchildren 40, and numerous great-grandchildren, the number of whom is not known."

THE WHITE FAMILY

JOHN WHITE, of Isle of Wight County, Virginia, lived in Virginia in 1690. His son, THOMAS WHITE, was born in 1696, married RACHEL RORDAN in 1719, and moved to North Carolina.

CALEB WHITE, son of Thomas and Rachel (Rordan) White, married REBECCA TOMS, 2-4-1761.

CALEB WHITE, son of Caleb & Rebecca (Toms) White, b. 10-30-1768, d. 10-5-1858.
PARTHENA (White) White, dt. Benjamin & Anna White, b. 7-18-1776.
Married 7-17-1794.
Children:

Josiah	b. 9-27-1796. (Probably 1795.)
Anna	b. 2-14-1797.
Rebecca	b. 4-14-1798, d. 9-19-1804.
Maximilian	b. 3-6-1801.

Penelope	b. 1-8-1807.
Margaret	b. 1-20-1810.
Elizabeth	b. 3-10-1812.
Jennette	b. 3-11-1817, d. 6-25-1850, m. Pritchard Morris. See
Caleb	b. 9-4-1819. (page 61.

SARAH ANN WHITE married (first) Jesse Towel, s. of John Towel of Paoli, Ind. They had two sons: John Sylvanius of Parke County, and Jesse, a cripple. She married (second) James Jones.

ANNA WHITE married Jesse Bogue. After Bogue's death, she took care of the home and children of Pritchard Morris following the death of his wife Jennette, Ann's sister.

PENELOPE WHITE married Nathan Trueblood. Their son, Jesse Trueblood, was the father of Willard and Luther Trueblood. The Nathan Trueblood home was about 2½ miles northeast of Blue River Friends Church, in Washington County, Ind. It was here that Penelope's mother, Parthena White, lived and died after the death of Penelope's father, Caleb White. Jesse Trueblood lived about ¼ mile southeast of his old home. The Caleb White family came to Indiana from North Carolina in 1815.

The above information concerning the early White family is taken from notes gathered by Elias White, who was a member of the faculty of Girard College in the early 1890's.

State of North Carolina, County of Randolph.

This Indenture made the Eighteenth day of February, eighteen hundred and twelve between Cornelius Beaman of the County of Randolph and State aforesaid of the one part & John W. Winslow of the other part, the said Cornelius Beaman doth put, place, and bind unto the said John W. Winslow and Phebe, his wife, Ann Beaman, his daughter, now about the age of eight years to live after the manner of apprentice servant until the apprentis shall attain the age of eighteen years during which time the said apprentis, the master and mistress shall faithfully serve and all their lawful commands obey. She shall not at any time absent herself from her Master and Mistress' service, but in all things as a good and faithful servant shall behave towards her Master and Mistress and the said John W. Winslow and Phebe, his wife, doth covenant, promise and agree to and with the said Cornelius Beaman That we will teach and instruct or cause to be taught and instruct the said Ann Beaman to read and write and other things according to custom in such cases and we will constantly find and provide for said apprentice during the time aforesaid sufficient diet, washing, lodging and clothing fitting for an apprentice, and also all other things necessary both in sickness and health.

In witness whereof the parties of these presents Name and interchangeably set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

Attest: (No signatures on the copy of agreement.)

Letter to Winslow Price, Washington County, Ind.

Indiana Territory, Wayne County, Twelve Mile Purchase, Green Fork, about four miles from the Boundry Line, March the 5th, 1816.

Respected Cousin: I gladly embrace this opportunity of sending thee

a few lines to inform thee that I have landed in these parts in which I find work a plenty to do and we are clearing away as hard as we can. We have 10 acres under fence and have begun to chop. I've a very good axe and can make the beeches fall directly. I should be glad to see thee, but it is as stated in my letter, and hoping to see you all in good health again and not much to write, and so I conclude and remain your affectionate cousin

Pearson Lacy.

To John W. Winslow June 4th 1813, Randolph County, N.C.

Dear Sir:

I am sorry that you have called on me at a time when it is out of my power to send your loan. My forge dam has been broke off a few days ago which has put me back. You may depend on your loan about the first of August next and it shall be ready for you at that time, without fail.

I am with respect yours

John Evans.

(Letter to John W. and Phebe (Lacy) Winslow.)

Indiana Territory, Wayne County, Twelve Mile Purchase, Green Fork the 7th of 3rd mo. 1816.

Dear Sister and Brother:

I gladly embrace this opportunity to write you a few lines just to inform you that we are tolerable well & well satisfied in the woods where sugar grows in the trees and tea under the trees. Our family are as well as usual and for particulars apply to Cousin Samuel Price. We have made about 80 lbs. of sugar and we have water enough (on hand) to make about 20 lbs. more. We are not married yet nor not much hopes of it for the young men are shy of us as we are of them. Our people have got about 10 acres under fence and (have) begun to clear (more). Brother John & Hanah are well and have a son about five months old and they call his name Samuel.

Mother says she should have been very glad that you could have settled near us but as it is she may give out of ever seeing you again. Says that you have not come up with your promise to come and see her.

About Wm. Glasgow, we are not able tell much about him. Only that we heard that he was to meet Ruben Morris at the Moravian Town, but we have heard since that he did not do it. He told us if he moved he should go to Blue River. So we conclude.

Your Sisters Susanah Lacy
Ruth Lacy.

P.S. Mother says that she has been more healthy than she was in North Carolina.

10. Court House, May 3rd, 1816.

(To John W. Winslow.)

Sir: I have your account and have not succeeded in getting your money from Mr. Evans. He is insolvent and has taken an oath of an insolvent debtor in several cases, and will I have no doubt do the same in yours as soon as he is pushed for the money.

Yours &c,

J. E. BROWN.

11.

(Letter from Sam'l. Hill To John W. Winslow.)

Randolph County, N.C., 10-15-1816.

Respected Friend:

J. Winslow, I received thy letter and about the contents was pleased to hear of thy health & family, also that thee was satisfied with thy move.

In regards to thy business, it is not yet settled. I have collected and paid Major Goss $25.00 which is about all I can collect without warranting. G. Haris has run away. As yet I have not heard whether that will be lost or not.

We have had a very dry time to make corn which I think (will) cause corn (to be) very dear from 25 to 35 per bushel from the heap. At present we are in reasonable health, not much sickness at present time in the neighborhood. Thomas Laws daughter Anna died yesterday with the fever.

In haste I remain thy Friend &c,

SAM'L. HILL.

12.

Mr. John W. Winslow

Perquimans County, (N.C.), 3-21-1817.

Dear Sir;

I write you these lines for the purpose of informing you that myself and wife is at this time in good health and enjoying peace and tranquility. In my last I neglected mentioning the name of my companion. Her name is Ann Munden, daughter of Elisha Munden of this County. We have at this time but tolerable prospects of our crops of wheat and corn. It is supposed the price of wheat will be from $1.50 to $2.00 per bushel. I have commenced my farming business. I have planted corn, sowed flax and am also endeavoring by all means to procure a good living in this world that my days may be attended with peace and comfort. I recollect of nothing more to mention particularly. I am in hopes these lines may find you and family enjoying health and all other advantages of life.

I remain as ever Your Affectionate Friend,

And Humble Servant,

WINSLOW PRICE.

State of Indiana, County of Wayne, September the 6th, 1817. Dear Relations, We gladly embrace this opportunity of writing to you to inform you something of our situation at present. We are all well at this time, hoping that these few lines may find you enjoying the same state of health. We received your letter last First day which you give the account of the death of your youngest child, which is not such good news, as we would like to hear, but it can't be hoped that we must soon know it. I may inform you that we felt disappointed when we heard that you were not coming to see us this fall. It being so I can't come to see you nor you to see us this fall we must be content with writing to each other.

I may inform you that crops of wheat is very good and corn looks promising. We have about 16 acres of corn this year. I may inform you that Henry Patten has sold his place where he used to live and has bought within about three miles of here and not much more to write at this time I must conclude. Your well wisher &c,

PETER LACY and SUSANAH.

Susanah and Ruth remembers their love to brother and sister, also to Sally and Samuel Price, and to James and Polly and all the rest of our relations. Josiah remembers his love to the boys.

(Letter From Sam'l. Hill.)

Randolph County, (N.C.), September 17, 1817. To John W. Winslow,
State of Indiana, near Blue River.

Respected Friend:

I haven't as yet settled thy business, but have paid Goss all I have collected - the debt in G. Harris hands lost. Ira Johnson & Wagoner disputes his note though I intend worrying him. The lawsuit about the horse with Nixon Henly stood a short trial. Nixon pays all cost. All is well. In haste, I remain thy Friend. Some complaint of sickness in our neighborhood of fever and ague.

(Letter addressed to Jno. W. Winslow, Indiana, Washington County, Near Blue River.)

c/o Politeness of W. B. Toms (or Mr. B. Toms.)

N.C., Perquimans County. Nov. 5th, 1817.

Dear Sir

Understanding you have not received any letters from me I make this second effort to inform you that myself and wife do enjoy a tolerable state of health, hoping these few lines will find you and yours the same. I have in the past year raised a plentyful crop. I suppose about 20 Bbls. of corn which is a great sufficiency for my small family and do enjoy myself with good society.

Please remember me to my acquaintances and inform them that I am very well satisfied in this part of the State. Though the ague and fever with several kinds of fevers have been very prevalent through the lower counties of this state. Nothing more but remaining Yours Affectionately &c,

Mr. Jno. W. Winslow, WINSLOW PRICE.

P.S. Please procure me a certificate from your Meeting, and send it in the care of some person or in a letter and you will oblige me &c.

16. (Letter from Alexander and Hanah Prevo.)

State of North Carolina, Randolph County, this the 13th of 11 month 1817.

I gladly embrace the opportunity of writing a few lines to inform you that we have not much complaint at present in our family, but our neighbors are generally under complaint with the fever and ague. We have had a tolerably good crop this year, I hope enough to do us tolerably plentifully. Corn was very scarce last spring. It sold for one dollar per bushel. I also inform you that we received your letter dated 4th of October which gives us great satisfaction to hear from you, that you were well in health and prosperous and satisfied. I also must inform you that my expectation of moving to your country is very small at present. My family is very large and the journey is very great, which is very discouraging to me at this time, though perhaps if life and opportunity permits I may come in the course of a few years and so I conclude with my love to you and your family. Hanah remembers her love to Phebe. Please write to us by every opportunity. This closes my writing at present.

ALEXANDER and HANAH PREVO.

To Phebe (torn) HANAH.

17.

Respected Cousin:

To Winslow Price, Perquimans County, North Carolina, Favored by B.Toms.
State of Indiana, Washington County, the 2nd of 1st month 1818.

I salute the opportunity of writing a few lines to thee. We received a letter from thee which was acceptable. We were pleased to hear from thee. I may inform thee that I as well as others was much disappointed in consequence of thy staying in them parts. When thee left us we understood by thee that thee was going down to sell thy land in order to enable thyself to get land here which I thought was wisdom in thee. I think thee would do well to do it yet, but better if thee had done it sooner. There is a chance of getting good land yet. I think it would be very wise in thee, either to come or send thy money to some person here that thee could put confidence in to get the quarter. My reasons for thus expressing myself are these: it is hardly probable thee will be able to purchase a sufficient tract of good land in that part of the country. Thee is sufficiently able to pay for a good quarter. In renting land to raise a family yon in that unusually sickly place, it seems to me to be but a bad chance. Now is the time to do something while thy family is small and thee has money to do something with. There is another thing I feel in duty bound to observe to thee. That is to not err from the way thee was brought up, but endeavor to live in simplicity and innocence as becomes Christians, remembering man was not made for the world but the world was made for man and man for his maker. Therefore all the erroneous compliments will not answer us any purpose in that we are called to give an account for the deeds done in the body.

I may inform thee we are in a reasonable state of health, have not had any sickness of any consequence since thee left us, neighbors generally well except Sammy Nicholson, with his leg. Elizabeth Nicholson is married to B. Draper and lives where W. Arnold lived when thee went away. Arnold has bought P. Needham's land; gave between 8 and nine hundred dollars.

James Winslow and family are well. Sam price is teaching school. We had a letter from father-in-law's people a few weeks ago stating they were well. The Old Man Sukky were here to see us last fall. I have a tolerable crop, between 40 and 50 barrels of corn. I expect to make a thousand out of pork, 300 lbs of leaf. I had a tolerable crop of wheat. It is all Lodged (or in the granary.)*

As for thy certificate, I don't know whether thee will get one or not. I expect there will be something done in thy case before long.

Phebe desires to be remembered to thee. I (have) nothing strange to inform thee of so conclude with thy well wishes. Farewell the way to farewell is to do well.

JOHN W. WINSLOW.

*(Note: The MS says 300 cct. of leaf. I copied it 300 lbs. of leaf. Does it mean leaf lard? Does "lodged" mean garnered? -- F.E.Winslow.)

18.

(Letter to John W. Winslow, State of Indiana, Washington County.)

State of Indiana, Wayne County, the 31 day of 12th month, 1818.

Dear Children:

I am once more favored to address you through the medium of education and this life is very swiftly passing from us, and I know not that I shall have the like opportunity to address you. And oh my children it would be the greatest comfort that this earth could afford to see you again, and not only to see you but that you could settle where I could enjoy your company. Though you are seperated, my heart is closely united and knit with you. Oh what shall I say. Shall I ever see you or must I give up the prospect and seek an asylum in some other retreat? How shall I see you unless you will come to us, for I am unable to come to you. So I conclude and subscribe myself Your Mother

SUSANAH LACY.

State of Indiana, County of Wayne, 11-26-1819.

Dear Relations:

I have the opportunity of writing to you to inform you that I am well at this time, hoping that these few lines may find you enjoying the same state of health. I am sorry to inform you that I have not attended thy business that thee left with me on account of the hurry of the times. But I will try to fix it to be collected for thee. I may further inform thee that I expect to start to North Carolina tomorrow morning to sell that Ward place which I do not expect to return to this spring. Thee must excuse my bad hand writing for it is getting late.

I may inform thee that I have been out to Cincinnati with the wagon and once out to White River to move a family, so I must conclude my short letter to you.

Please to remember me to all inquiring friends. I subscribe myself your well wishing Friend

PEARSON LACY.

20. (A much faded letter from (name faded away) to James Winslow, dated 12-12-1819.)

Respected Cousin James: I come once more to undertake to write you a few lines to inform you that we are all as well as common and hope that these few lines find you and your family in good health. I have had some thoughts of coming to see you and yours, but I have been disappointed about coming soon. I want thee to come and see us this winter if thee can make it convenient as there will be a chance of having company when Patrick and Robert Hill returns from the Assembly. I want to go over the boundry that Sims is (offering or adjoining) west of this County (two words faded) understood that thee has been in the notion of removing to Driftwood for I want us all to try to get land nearer together than what we now have. There are men now out to cut a road from Richmond to the lake north near Saint Mary. (Two lines in which "Mr. Brophy" and "Fayetteville" are the only intelligible words.) (On the other side of the sheet.) there has been a company of men to view and lay off the land around and it is their opinion that it will add much to the advantages of the population of the northwestern part of the State. So as Jonithan Pearson is now ready to start I must conclude. Pearson Lacy has gone to Carolina. Started about 3 weeks ago so no more for this time. This from

(Letter from Alexander Prevo.)

To Mr. J. W. Winslow, State of Indiana, County of Washington.
State of North Carolina, Randolph County, April 11, 1823.
Friend Woolman Winslow:

I think the present time a proper one to write a few lines to you and inform you that I and my cousins are as well as usual and also to let you know somethings concerning old affairs left in the hands of Sam'l. Hill were perhaps neglected by him beyond the proper time and money was demanded of me by F.Goss, as your security. I then proceeded to take all the papers in my hand and enforced a collection in order to exonerate myself and after all was collected that could be, there was a deficiency of between seven and eight dollars which I was obliged to pay out of my own pocket which I have to request that you would please send to me and Remain in respectful Friendship. So nothing more. Hanah requests to be remembered to Phebe.

ALEXANDER PREVO.

23. Randolph County, August 26th, 1826.

Respected Friend, Woolman Winslow:

I received thy letter but have neglected in answering it until it is really season. But having an opportunity of sending thy note by Sam'l. Prevo, I have included thy note with George Harris receipt which we could not collect. Thee will observe on the note that Alexander Prevo paid one dollar and eighty four cents that settled the balance of the note. When it is convenient it will be right to send Alexander Prevo that sum. In haste I remain Thine &c.

SAM'L. HILL.

J. W. Winslow.

N.B. Alexander Prevo Requested me to say in this letter when he wrote thee last he made a mistake in the sum he did pay Goss. Also wished his respects given and his family are all well. S.H.

24. 2nd month, 10th day, 1835.

We are all well at present and hope that these lines find you all in health.

I have taken up my pen to perform a most solemn duty, that is to inform you of the death of an aged and beloved father. He departed this life on the last day of first month last. After nearly one years suffering under a lingering disease. He appeared as well as he had been for some weeks until about one hour before his death. He left the bed to go to the door and was taked with a faintness and returned to bed and departed like a person in a sweet sleep.

Our relations hereabout are all well as common. So I conclude and remain your Brother and Friend,

JOHN LACY.

I expect to write thee before long to inform thee more particulars of matters and things pertaining there to.

28. (The following letter was sent by mail from Cambridge, Ind., 4-7-1844.)

Indiana State
Wayne County. I write the 6th day 1844.

Much esteemed Brother and Sister: I take my pen in hand to write a few lines to inform you how we are getting along in these parts. My wife is still unwell and is not able to set up and go about the house near all the time. The rest of us are in reasonable Health. Charles Morris and wife expect to start out to Boston, Illinois, sometime in this month. They expect to go by water and to be home til about harvest.

Matthew Symons and family are all well. I saw them a few days ago. They talk some of taking a trip to the west this season to Brady's and Josiah's and see the country. But I think it is a chance if they get off. Our brother Pearson deceased on the 28th day of March last after about a week of severe sickness. I was out to the burying and returned home this day a week ago. He has left a distressed wife and seven children to mourn the loss of a careful protector. I heard last evening that Margaret was sick and had sent for the doctor which news makes me uneasy and I expect to go in a few days to see how she is and to assist in some way in order to have a crop put in. So I conclude and remain,

Your Brother
